DO IT NOW

Norway People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due, in most cases, to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel, or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Duan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at hand:

Wm. O. Needham, living on Main St., Norway, Me., says: "At different times when I have taken cold, it has settled on my kidneys and has served to cause some trouble with these organs. Several years ago I learned of Duan's Kidney Pills, and whenever I have felt my kidneys to be in need of a tonic, I have appealed to this remedy and it has never failed to rid my system of uric acid poison. I can recommend them as a very reliable kidney remedy."

BLOOD

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor. There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high we are being refreshed—bone, muscle and brain, in body and mind—with continual flow of rich blood. This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take

Old Fashioned Husking. On the afternoon of Sept. 25th H. B. McKean had an old fashioned husking bee. A goodly number of his neighbors were present and husked out about 70 bushels of nice yellow corn in time to do ample justice to the nice baked bean supper prepared by Mrs. H. B. McKean. All reported a very nice time.

Ralph Adams has moved his family into the house called "The Hut." Almost everybody attended the "world's fair" at North Waterford, Saturday.

E. B. and Linwood Sawyer of Lovell have made a short visit to their parental home. Beryl McKean was at home over Sunday from Norway, where she is attending school.

Mrs. Solon McAllister of East Stoneham visited a few days with her friend, Mrs. Lyman Hilton.

Win Adams of North Stoneham has been suffering for some time with a severe attack of stomach trouble but is better now.

Blanche Adams came home one day from East Stoneham, where she has been stopping with her sister, Mrs. Grace Clifford, during her convalescence.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McKean and little daughter, Pearl, of Lovell, and Mr. and Mrs. John McKean of Cumberland Mills made a short visit at J. C. Sawyer's, recently.

Baptist Church Dedicated.

The Baptist church at Rumford Falls, Rev. Harold L. Hanson, pastor, was dedicated, last week. The church includes an auditorium seating nearly 300 persons. In the rear of this adjoining is the Sunday school and prayer room, with a capacity of 100; and the ladies' parlor, seating 50, these all being connected by rolling partitions and easily thrown into one large room. The library leads out of the ladies' parlor. In the rear of the pulpit is the pastor's room and two ladies' dressing rooms for baptismal purposes. At the left of the organ is a room for the choir, all these being well lighted.

There are five entrances to the main floor, all the doors at the exits opening out. On the floor which is entered from Plymouth Avenue and which is really a half-basement section of the church with two entrances is the large vestry formerly used for preaching services and easily seating 300; and in the rear of this are the kitchen with a long corridor connecting. In the rear also is a room for the infant class, which was formerly used as a gymnasium room; also a gentlemen's dressing room. There are two lavatories.

The church is equipped with three furnaces.

The entire church is finished as to the interior with quartered oak, very simple in design and severely elegant. At the left of the pulpit is the large $3,000 pipe organ recently dedicated and at the right is the baptismal font. The carpet in the auditorium is of 3-ply woolen, in green, with a small figure. Throughout the church the walls are tinted from a dark shade of green at the bottom to a mere tint of green near the ceiling. The pulpit furniture is also of oak, upholstered in dark green leather, and including the five stationery seats, in green leather, the pastor's and deacons' chairs and table for the communion service, the pulpit, and two small tables for holding bouquets.

HEBRON.

Colby 16; Hebron 0.

Hebron played its first game of football this season Saturday with Colby college on the college gridiron at Waterville and gave the college boys quite a scare in the first half, keeping the ball in Colby's field the most of the time and took it to within a foot of the goal line, where Soule in his anxiety to push the ball over the line after he was down lost it. A goal from the field was all Colby could get in the first half. Colby then strengthened her team in the second half and with the fresh men took a brace and secured two touchdowns in the last half.

Power of the Eyes.

"That the color of the eyes should affect their strength may seem strange, yet that such is the case need not be proved, and those whose eyes are brown or dark colored should be informed that they are weaker and more susceptible to injury from various causes than gray or blue eyes. Light blue eyes are generally the most powerful and next to these are gray. The lighter the pupil the greater and longer continued is the degree of tension which the eye can sustain."

Don't use your eyes when they smart; smarting means that they are calling for rest. Beware of a dazzling sunshine or a high wind on a very dusty day; even if you wear of strong eyes, under such conditions, better protect them with glasses.

George R. Hammond, who has been raising potatoes this year, brought a basket of them to the village one day, recently, and had considerable to say about them. He said he had dug 20 bushels of potatoes and that they came out of the smallest piece of ground that he knew to produce so many potatoes. There were 24 potatoes in the basket which he carried and they weighed 35 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cotton of Auburn recently visited his brother, F. L. Cotton. They were accompanied by J. L. Mason and wife also of Auburn.

We had the pleasure one morning of this week of seeing Mrs. Nellie Thibodeau preparing butter for the market. Mr. Thibodeau thinks it pays better to market butter than cream.

The Yield of Potatoes.

Maine still holds the fifth position of all the American states in the production of potatoes—only Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New York outranking our own state in the yield of this important crop. Last year the actual statistics gave Maine a yield of 22,603,390 bushels of potatoes valued at $11,406,180.

From the reports so far received from all the states, the potato crop of the country is generally smaller than that of last year, with the exception of the yield in this state. The crop here is much better than in the New England and northern states generally and will fall but little, if any, below the yield of last year. In view of the moderate yield in other states and the lighter demand that has existed during the past eight or nine months there will be plenty of potatoes to supply the demand without forcing prices to an abnormal level, although it can be safely said that dealers in general, as well as growers, expect prices to be considerably above the level of last year.

In ordinary seasons it does not take much of an advance in the price of potatoes to materially curtail the demand and, of course, in a season when the demand is already somewhat restricted, anything like high prices would affect the demand more than usual.

Perhaps the most important factor in this year's potato deal will be the diversion of potatoes from their usual channels to reaching markets. Generally speaking, each district has a certain part of the country which it supplies with potatoes, governed to a certain extent by favorable or unfavorable railroad rates, nearness to the consuming centers, etc. This year, with a number of leading producing sections having a smaller production, the few districts which do have a normal production will no doubt experience a larger demand than usual. Not only will the potatoes grown in this country be shipped out of the ordinary channels to some extent, but foreign countries will likely take advantage of the shortage in America and ship moderate supplies to New York and other Atlantic ports. This is done nearly every year when there is a short crop in the country, unless there is a corresponding shortage abroad.

In view of the decreased demand, it is quite probable that the reduction in the crop will not mean smaller profits to the growers, except in instances where their crop is very materially shortened. A rather short crop at good prices is frequently as profitable, or more so than a large crop at rather low prices. A very large crop this year might, therefore, have depressed prices to a low level and rendered the marketing of the crop at a profitable price a difficult task for the growers and shippers.

Desiccated Brightness.

Chopped From Our Exchanges.

"The American ladies are slow to accept change," is the declaration of the president of the dressmakers' association. "This remark is well proved by most husbands who have had their pockets turned wrongside out."

The summer hotels are now about all closed, most of the summer guests having returned to their homes in the cities. Generally speaking, the summer business has been up to the average, and many houses report the largest business in their history. While the regular vacation season is over now is the finest part of the year in the mountains.

Farmers say that the drought is likely to have an especially bad effect on old land. One man says he has some old land that has been literally baked and the roots of the grass burned out. He says it will be worthless next year unless it is broken up.

A Scottish farmer was proudly showing a visitor an antique clock which had recently come into his possession. "Isn't that a gran' clock?" he said. "I bought it at an auction sale in the town the other day and got a rare bargain."

"Yes, but does it keep good time?" the visitor asked.

"Ah, well, it's no good enough to catch a train or that sort of thing, but good enough to get up to yer breakfast wi'."

"I saw one of your old girls today," began the wife.

"And I saw one of your old beaux," responded the husband. "Suppose I call it a tie and switch the conversation to something else."

It was so agreed.

A very fat lady got on the train and as she was taking the seat in front of two young men the fat woman in front of us. She's been eating yeast. And this joke they both enjoyed hugely. At the next station the fat lady got off, but as he was passing the fat lady she stopped him and said, "Young man, if you had eaten more yeast you would have had better raising and been better bred," and this joke the other passengers are still repeating.

A Few Japanese Customs.

The Japanese bridegroom presents his bride-to-be with a long piece of gold embroidery. This is for a girdle, which is the wedding ring of the Japanese. He also gives her a roll of white silk from which she makes her wedding gown. He must also give his parents-in-law rich gifts. These are usually works of art. The bride gives no presents either to him or to his people. On the wedding day, however, her people give the bridegroom many costly gifts.

Among the bride's superstitions are these: That if she is carried under an arch of honor, her life will be lucky. She may expect the best if she meets a priest as she is the head of a tamed deer in the temple park as she passes, everything happy is to be hers. The best luck of all is given her by wearing bridal flowers that a maiden gathers in the snow. Marries, her mother burns all her toys in her front yard. It is to signify that the play of life is over; the work of life begun.

This is very much the same custom as old Rome. A bride of that day took farewell of her friends and toys before her marriage; on her wedding day she ceremoniously offered them up to the gods.

When a little Japanese baby is 13 days old it is taken by its parents to the temple they attend, and the father gives three names to the priest, who writes each upon a piece of paper. They are shuffled about while certain incantations are made, and then they are thrown high into the air. The child is chosen the one of the three which is chosen is the child in their history. The priest then writes the name on a piece of paper and given to the parents to keep.

In addition to the name the baby receives a letter, one of which are important. A boy baby receives a couple of fans, and a little girl a box of pomade, and both receive a packet of flax, to signify good wishes for all sorts of blessings and a long life.

Studying Results.

Dr. Leon S. Merrill, the instructor in dairy methods in Maine and State inspector of dairy herds and barns, is now absent in the great dairy states of the middle west where he is studying the results that have been gained by the farmers in that section of the country who have been devoting their country to the development and application of the best dairy methods. One of Dr. Merrill's objects is to obtain additional facts concerning the work being accomplished by the cow-testing associations, which farmers in Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin were the first to organize and put into a practical and systematic operation. Farmers in our own state may be slow to recognize their importance and yet slower to form such associations for their benefit, although such are likely to take a leading place in the improvement of local agricultural conditions in Maine.

It is estimated that about fifteen million cans of corn have been packed in the forty or more corn canneries in the state of Maine during the season just closed. This next season the state is expected to produce a surplus of corn, and it is estimated that the inhabitants of Maine raise a big lot of corn, eat all they can, and what they can't eat they can. —Laconia Democrat.

Mad Dog Fallacy.

Another Example of Common Sense Defeating Ignorance.

"Mad dog! Run!" The alarming cry sounded repeatedly as the truly good people of the Brookdale section of Bloomfield, N. J., were passing a house in the church recently. Hearing it, pious deacons took to their heels and gallant beaux hurriedly helped young women over fences, proving, evidently, that tan shoes and stockings are very fashionable in Bloomfield. Down the street dashed a black dog, its eyes glaring and foam foaming its jaws as it became any dog with rabies. But it did not try to bite any human or any dog; every now and then it halted and pawed its mouth and howled mournfully. The dog approached Miss Cissy Campbell, a farmer's daughter, but she did not try to escape it. The cries redoubled: "Mad dog! Run!"

The poor brute, crouching, crawled to Miss Cissy's feet and looked up at her appealingly, its attitude saying plainly, "Please help me." Miss Cissy knelt and opened the dog's mouth several young men plucked up courage to approach.

"Isn't he mad?" "I guess he is," said Miss Cissy, calmly, "and any one who would be mad if you had an angry hornet in your mouth." Snapping at fleas, the dog had made a serious mistake. With a silver of wood Miss Cissy recovered the beragbled but still vigorous hornet from the grateful brute's swollen mouth.

Named by the People

Half a century ago, Rev. Fr. John (John of Lowell, Mass., through overwork and exposure, became seriously ill. He was suffering from a cough and long trouble threatened his life. An eminent specialist gave Father John, as he was fondly called, a prescription to take the cod and remove the lung trouble as well as to build up and strengthen the body. The clergyman began to improve at once, the cough disappeared and his lungs healed. It corrected the digestion, made new tissue and Father John was soon restored to his former health and strength.

Father John recommended the medicine to his parishioners and friends, and because of its merits it became the family remedy in thousands of homes, and became known as "Father John's Medicine," having been so named by the people, and was advertised, all with the approval of Father John.

It will cure all throat and lung troubles, prevent Pneumonia and Consumption, and make flesh and strength if taken faithfully. It is not a patent medicine and does not contain alcohol or poisonous drugs. Read guarantee, which follows:—

$25,000.00 Guarantee

This sum of money, $25,000.00, will be given to any charitable institution if it can be shown that the story of Father John's Medicine is not true in every particular.

SOUTH PARIS.

Sayford and Smith Meetings.

The evangelistic meetings being held at the Baptist church are well attended by people of this vicinity and surrounding towns—the church being filled to overflowing.

The meeting Sunday evening was opened by a vesper service. The songs were all familiar ones and under the direction of Mr. Smith a volume of music was brought forth from the congregation. Lewis E. Smith, the gospel singer, playing his own accompaniment on a harp, sang "They crucified him," and "Where He Leads Me I Will Follow." These were beautifully rendered and with the soft, sweet strains of the harp, caused perfect silence to fall upon the congregation.

S. M. Sayford spoke in a very able manner, his subject being "Life." He said that he was not here to see how many in numbers he could draw to church but he wanted to teach as many as he could the true life. He told in a brief way what a true Christian should be, and what he should not be. He also said that he brought the true message of life and any who would receive it, there was an extra meeting on Tuesday afternoon in the Baptist church. They also are planning to have meetings at noon so those who could not attend at any other time can have a chance to attend.

The Winter Hat.

Millinery opening days in Norway were Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. E. P. Fenn has for helpers this season Nina W. Keyes, Mrs. Frank Dunham and Annie Fox. They have 85 trimmed hats and a few bonnets.

Mrs. G. A. Allen has for assistants Estelle McKillop, Vivian Ranger, Mrs. Emma Mann and Mrs. Leon Curtis. They show 90 hats, bonnets, etc.

In the show windows the prevailing color is green and this is to be the leading color this season. The lady in Mrs. Allen's window has on her head a black dress hat with rushe collar attached. "Marie's" hat in Mrs. Power's window is a green velvet, plated rushe, a band of gilt and ostrich feather pompon.

The influence which the stage exerts upon present day fashions is more than ever apparent in this season's fashions, and particularly millinery.

The woman who has a large collection of ostrich plumes may use each and every one of them this year, for more smart-looking hats are plume garnished than ever.

Although bonnets themselves have not arrived, the bonnet strings are here, and immensely smart they are when attached to the right sort of headgear. The typical Directoire hat which is really a poke, invariably shows the strings attached to the edges of the bonnet directly above the ears, going in the fashion beneath the chin and out at one side.

Other very wide-brimmed hats carry wide satin ribbon strings, which do not go underneath the chin but are merely looped against the left ear and in some instances the wide ribbons placed at the inner edge of the bonnet which it joins the crown are crossed and tied at the nape of the neck.

The crown of the Corday-brimmed hat should be sugar-loaf shape, covered Tam fashion with the silk or satin and then trimmed with a draped band which terminates in a rosette bow at the side and from beneath which may spring a cluster of short wings.

A new toque is called the "Pill Box" taken an appropriate title, as it is perfectly round and of the same size at both edges.

Since tulle has become a year-round fabric it is to be more than ever employed in the development of the winter fashions intended for dressy wear, and notably for those in which the multiple combinations are desired. In some of these the shape and its crown ruchings are wholly of black tulle, while the trimmings are of white aigrettes or ospreys.

Bonnet ornaments are no small thing. Some of these are covered with velvet to match the hat. Bonnets covered with various kinds of material to match the trimmings are the new ornaments. Fur is seen in bands or crowns. The cabochon, a large round ornament, is having its day.

Some of the hats we noticed were a little black toque with brim of shirred tulle, a soft draped crown of velvet and one white plume. A big Alice blue and one white plume. A big Alice blue and one white plume.

A large black Brussels net and velvet and silk. A pill box hat is olive green, plaited ribbon brim, trimmed with Persian ribbon in shades of blue and green caught with tiny gilt tassels, and wings of blue and green.

A misses' hat is Alice blue with flat crown of pleated white lace starting from a large flat blue button on top of crown, French roses. A plain, black sailor fancy draped crown, with fancy feather band and a rosette of feathers on the side, wings. A navy and Copenhagen blue, two plumes of navy blue on right side, a cabbage rose of the light and one of the dark blue, gilt in with the band. A small mushroom in Bordeaux shade with pheasants' wings and feathers and green and white stone buckle. A taupe shade of satin with satin and velvet draped around crown, stiff wings to match.

The crowns of the hats are high and large, the longest way being from side to side. Tam crowns are popular for large hats. Then there are willow plumes, owl heads, the shades of unadorned blue, natter blue, palm green and apricot.

We saw one hat with the veil fasten around the brim by having a ribbon drawn through the hem and under the trimmings so as not to show and the lower edge made into a collared attachment for the neck.

The new trimming is in the right and back, though of course some is bunching on the left side as formerly and some in front. Some flat hats have some of the brim cut off and put on different places with buttons.

Then there are the cart wheel rosettes, the Ferris wheel rosettes with ribbon button centers, the knife pleated rosettes, and the lace rosettes. A touch of gilt or silver is effective if judiciously placed. Unadorned ostrich plumes, fan wings, palm feathers, and Pocahontas feathers and quills are things that this year's styles call for.

The babies' Mother Goose bonnets, made of feltings instead of silk as formerly, are very quaint. Sometimes flowers or sprays of innumerable plumes are bunched near the front of large hats.

A hat in the dahlia shade with a cravat bow and tasseled ends of light gray ribbon trimmed with white plumes; a wine colored hat with fancy banding and feather flowers; a wine and myrtle green hat with ribbon buttons; a mole color and green hat; a dome hat something like the fireman's hat of the late summer; a Napoleon bonnet with streamers for children, a mole and myrtle green hat were some of the styles we saw.

Then along this same line was a large black hat with a swan's stomach for crown and a spray of white uncut ostrich plumes. A black Corday with plaited ribbon rim, Tam crown and willow plume. A sable fur, pill box shaped hat with natural wings and brim ornamented with small fur heads and buttons. A green and black hat, velvet draped with Pocahontas band and eagle feathers. A brown hat, the crown made in sunflower effect, ribbon with pointed ends, on which were little gilt tassels, falling from a large button on top crown, large roses. By the way, if flowers are used they are of the large varieties.

WOMAN'S BACKACHE

The back is the mainspring of woman's organism. It quickly calls attention to trouble by aching. It tells, with other symptoms, such as nervousness, headache, pains in the loins, weight in the lower part of the body, that a woman's feminine organism needs immediate attention.

In such cases the one sure remedy, which speedily removes the cause, and restores the feminine organism to a healthy, normal condition is

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Will Young, of 6 Columbia Ave., Rockland, Me., says:

"I was troubled for a long time with dreadful backaches and a pain in my side, and was miserable in every way. I doctored until I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to try it; after taking three bottles I can truly say that I never felt so well in my life."

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I had very severe backaches, and pressing-down pains. I could not sleep, and had no appetite. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me and made me feel like a new woman."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bear down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

GREENWOOD.

Did you ever know of a hen whose feathers changed color? Mrs. Edward F. Herriock of Patch mountain has such a hen. It is a Barred Plymouth Rock and is three years old. This is the second time that after shedding its feathers the new ones have grown out a pure white in color. By spring these have changed to the natural blue. The hen is certainly a freak of nature, being almost wholly white in winter and blue in summer. Mrs. Herriock has been offered money for the hen but declines to sell, choosing to keep this wonder and see what will come of it.

A Smart Man.

G. W. Hobson of North Waterford, better known as Uncle Hobbs, has got 52 bushels of potatoes into the cellar, wheeling them to the cellar himself. The beauty in this is that he is 92 years old.

Andover Fair.

No legitimate racing was had this year at the fair, the races not filling. Wednesday a scrub race between one of Fred Smith's horses and two of Billy Gregg's was won by Smith's horse.

The ball game between Dixfield and Andover 3 to 1 in favor of Andover. In the game Smithville vs. Andover, the score was 1 to 0 in favor of Smithville.

The baby show held the center of interest for a while. A splendid cattle came from Dixfield. The cattle exhibit was good and the poultry the best ever shown here. Along with the poultry was penned a little captive fox. There was a little Angora goat hitched to a cart.

The stalls of cattle and horses were visited by admiring hundreds both days, and great interest as usual centered in the drawing matches. Wednesday in drawing contest, F. W. The purse was $29. Thursday another big crowd witnessed the horse drawing. The sweepstakes, 6940 pounds, was drawn off victoriously by the horses of Mr. Rose of Rumford Center, with Ray Thurston's pair from Andover second. The purse in this was $25.

A. Dana Barreille, collector of minerals, had an interesting table of Oxford county gems. The hall was well filled with "fancy and useful articles."

An exhibit that attracted considerable attention was an automobile whittled from wood by Alwyn Elliott of North Rumford. The passengers were several teddy bears.

The display of house plants was very attractive and was exhibited by Mrs. O. G. Damon. Mrs. C. M. Newton showed a collection of canned goods, which was very pleasing to the sight, and undoubtedly still more pleasing to the palate.

Mrs. Y. A. Thurston exhibited crab apple jelly. George Philbrick and L. A. Akers showed some fine specimens of several varieties of apples. Two large baskets of nice red tomatoes were exhibited by Miss Gregg.

The exhibit of the Lone Mountain Grange occupied one side of the hall and consisted of apples, vegetables, field crops, fancy work and five mounted deer heads. A passing one must not omit mentioning the white skin show by Roscoe Littlehale, which is a rare specimen. W. W. Perkins contributed a sheath of Japanese millet, a kind of fodder plant grown on plains land.

WEST MINOT.
The Doner of the West Minot Bell.

J. G. Hilborn of West Minot has been in the local limelight for the past few weeks on account of his giving a bell to the church of his native village. He is a quiet retiring gentleman, who lives alone not far from the church to which he has made his gift, the spire of which pointing heavenward has been a daily sight to him, and quite likely suggested the present.

His is an old family in Minot. It is of Scotch ancestry, first immigrant settling in Pennsylvania, and appears to have been a follower of Wm. Penn. The originator of the name in Maine, Robert, came to Falmouth at about the opening of the Revolutionary war and enlisted in the army from that place. After the war he settled in Hebron and after a few years moved to that part of Bakerstown known as Minot. The family has lived in that town for several generations and intermarried with many of the prominent families.

The doner of this bell is the last member of the family by the name in town and with his death the name may become simply a recollection. His mother was Lucy Hilborn Greenwood, daughter of Major Greenwood, who was born on the summit of Greenwood Mountain where the Hebron Sanatorium now stands. It is in memory of this mother that he gave the bell.

Mr. Hilborn has many heirlooms that have come down in the family - old furniture, dishes and clocks. The grandfather of this man, Samuel Hilborn, was maker of the old grandfather clock cases and there are several of these clocks about the house. In the parlor is a silhouette of this grandfather Samuel and another of his wife. Several members of the families have been quite extended travellers, visiting Europe, Asia and the western part of our own country, and to the heirlooms of the family can be added many curios, so it is an interesting house to visit.

Mrs. Inez Hammond of West Paris and Philip Bonney of South Paris were admitted to the Lewiston C. M. G. hospital last week.

Fryeburg Fair Notes.

The fair was last week. Best exhibit in the history of the society and this was the 58th annual.

The rain early Tuesday morning was just what was needed, it left the dust and stopped possibility of forest fires. The exhibition went on that day without a hitch.

Wednesday, at 11.06 a. m., we arrived on the grounds, coming from Norway via Bridgton in two hours and twelve minutes in Fog's auto. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Fogg of South Paris, John A. Woodman, Jas. C. True and the writer.

Fogg drove Ellis Boons in the 2.23 class in the afternoon, and won third money. There were six horses in the race.

H. H. Lee of Waterville was the starting judge. He is the Lee of the Turf, Farm and Home and writes entertainingly of horses and other animals. Ross G. Knight of Cornish and George E. Tarbox of Harrison were associated with him and Carlton H. Walker of Fryeburg was clerk.

We noticed few improvements on the grounds, two years since we were last here. The society is using its surplus in reducing a debt of $3,000. Thirty per cent, and interest has been paid in the last four years and no doubt another good sized slice will be cut from it this year.

This debt came as a surprise some four or five years ago. Many of the society members supposed there were no floating bills or debts but there were and they exceeded the three thousand mark. The president, one of the society, J. A. Farrington of Lovell, took the matter in hand and raised the required amount in $100 pieces. That is he found 12 persons who loaned the society $100 each and took the society's notes, and 13 more who signed an $1800 note. All of this is secured by a trust deed of the grounds and buildings. Ample security, as we understand the buildings are insured for more than the face of the notes. Five per cent, is paid on the large note.

John F. Phillips has resigned as deputy sheriff. Will have nothing more to do with it. We stopped at his house over night and perhaps there were 18 or 20 others there. Mr. Phillips and wife came from Alexander, N. H. some nine years ago to care for John S. Atwood, a relative, and he hired the Atwood property—a good farm and an old fashioned set of buildings, 70 acres in the home place and a 70 acre wood lot near Lovell's pond. He has almost made up his mind to sell it. His health is not good enough to allow him "to carry on" the place.

Mr. Phillips raises good squashes, 3 from one hill weighing 150 pounds, the largest 60 pounds. He keeps two cows and a horse.

John Kilgore, formerly of North Waterford, brother to "Pete" was on the grounds. He is in the livery business at Gorham and is doing satisfactorily and tho' he don't have the weekly visit of the Norway ADVERTISER.

"Sitavay" Noyes was met and interviewed. He lives at Fryeburg Center and is busy all the time in his studio and in searching for gems, minerals, etc. We suppose we ought to say George L. Noyes, but he is known to us as Shavey and we trust he will excuse us even tho' he is some pumpkins as an artist, writer and explorer for minerals, pearls and nature secrets. He says he is soon to visit Norway. His mother's health was fairly good and Della was there visiting them.

L. Pendexter had a barn full of stock here and has won many premiums. They were strung on a clothes line. He reports a good summer business, biggest for years. This is summer company. A good number are stopping at the house now.

Edward Ela checked 450 pieces at the check room, Wednesday. He has held that position for three years. It was his biggest day's work.

It was currently reported about $80 more than was ever received for Wednesday's gate receipts. The price of admission has been increased 10c. There was a big attendance.

Nelson T. Fox, Lovell, is division superintendent of transportation "what-ever that may be. He is the son of Eben Fox, who now divides his time between city and country life. Summers in Lovell and winters in Portland.

Nelson, or Ned as he is called, is pretty nearly "it" in Lovell. He owns and operates the stage line from North Lovell to Fryeburg and keeps 80 and more horses and an automobile. The feed, hay, grain and what not and does business in the pine forest thereabouts. We don't say whether he makes money, but he keeps his bills paid and employs a good many people. Frank Harmon, who is known to many of our subscribers, keeps the books for him.

C. E. Fox, brother of the above, is chairman of the finance committee and looks carefully after his duties. This Fox lives in Fryeburg and is engaged in selling feed, grain, flour, hay, cement and building.

Both boys, like their father and uncle, are interested in good horses that are threatened with bursts of speed.

Ben E. Brown is another of the Lovell boys who is doing something.

He is a son of the Brown who is in the hardware business and we think is a relation of the Foxes. Ben Brown is the owner of the popular camps on Big Kezar where large fish abound, both in and out of the water and in story and song. The place is styled in print as Kezar Lake Hotel, Center Lovell, but more commonly called Ben Brown's Camps. Half a dozen of them, and plenty of boats and canoes. "Doing a good business," every one says. It must be so as he supports an automobile.

Walter Gordon of Norway and Sweden was selling cigars and working hard. We take him to be a son of one of our Sweden correspondents who lives in Back or Black Mountain. Walter has a trade on to swap his Norway residence with Dr. L. W. Atkinson of Fryeburg.

Harry Fessenden, who in years gone by sold score cards for us, is now located and has been for three years in Portland and works for Prince's Express. He is here on a visit.

Frank G. Ham, Brownfield, postmaster and trader, and son, Roy or Ray, were here. He is interested in music and could be found near Chandler's Band of Portland when it was in action. Many years ago we whined away a good portion of one winter playing dominoes with him when we should have been cutting up the wood pile. This was at Meredith Center, N. H., some 40 years ago.

Wm. Gordon, Fryeburg, president of the society, has sold goods at auction for 52 years and is booked for a sale at the residence of Mrs. F. A. Wiley, Tuesday, Oct. 20, at 10 a. m.

This year the society has eliminated the advertising from their premium list and changed the style of the pamphlet. To our mind it is an improvement worthy of note.

B. D. Knight of Sweden was among the cattle for three long days and is booked for North Waterford Friday and Saturday.

B. Walker McKean, secretary, doesn't look a day older than when he rode a prancing horse and did the marshal act before he got a national reputation as a lecturer on agricultural subjects. He has busy, of course, he was, and with a smile and a glad hand he welcomed us into his office presided over by Miss Woodard.

It is said Will Cash was chauffeur, and George L. Hathaway and F. L. Starbird were passengers. Anyhow, whatever was the party they were obliged to build a bonfire to keep them from freezing, while the chauffeur employed all his mechanical skill under the machine trying to get it into running order. At about 9.30 the auto was repaired and they started for home after spending a very pleasant evening, not at the meeting but on
